Masonic Temple King Favors Commission Upon Lands

(Staff Correspondent with the Congressional Party.) VOLCANO HOUSE, Hawaii, Nov.

12.-None of the congressional party has been more interested in Hawaii's land problems and homestead puzzle than Senator King of Utah. While he is still open to conviction and desires to hear all angles of the controversy, the small landowners as well as the planter, the laborer as well as the territory, he has tentatively made up his mind as to what Hawaii needs.

In brief, it is a complete revision of the existing system. Senator King, just before leaving this morning for Hilo to take the boat to Honolulu, gave the Star-Bulletin representative a clear insight into his views and ideas. the propaganda of corporation and the day. He said:

territorial prison.

The death sentence of Dojoylongsol was set for that day-November 16-by the governor at the time the death warrant was signed, while Garcia's second reprieve will expire on the same date. Officials say that no further testimony is desired from Garcia as to the murder of the Kaunane girl at Kohala, of which he claims he is guilty. He has been interviewed fully by Sheriff Sam Pua of Hawaii and by former Judge J A. Matthewman, who tried the case of Jose Bilinueva, now serving a life term as the supposed murderer. Governor Pinkham has also questioned Garcia, who claims this second murder. Garcia is to be hanged for the murder of a Japanese at Honokaa, Dojoylongsol killed a Filipino woman near Watertown during a shooting affray in which he emptied his pistol at a group consisting of his victim, her daughter and a Filipino man, the murderer's rival.

What a Businessman Thinks of Fred B. Smith

I am of the opinion that everybody likes to hear a straight-forward. forceful speaker. His points, like in the case of Fred B. Smith, are generally well taken with his audiences, for he apparently complies strictly with the four reasons for successful speaking; rules which came to my notice through the Hon. Carl Schurz, representative from Missouri in United States congress, and from the late Rev. William Brewster Oleson. (1.) Have something to say.

Say it. Stop when said. See to it that everyone present hears what you have to say.

will secure an early peace. "Horses sometimes kick over the traces and such horses must be corralled," said President Wilson referring to some of the recent industrial strikes.

"Nobody has the right to stop the processes of labor until all possible conciliatory measures have been exhausted," he declared. President Wilson concluded his stirring address by appealing for greater cooperation between workers and capital. He said that instrumentalities must be devised, where they do not at present exist, to bring about the proper amount of cooperation between labor and capital throughout the United States.
